WAR WITH THE MEXICANS

ALL TEXAS AROUSED OVER THE EDITOR CUTTING AFFAIR.

Batteries of Cannon Planted on the American Side of the River Ready to Bombard the City at Matamoros' Notice—Government Troops Held in Readiness.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 26.—There was a sensation here when, on the arrival of the through express train, El Paso passengers related the status of the Cutting case.
The rumor that batteries of cannon were planted on the American side of the river and that the cascade of El Paso del Norte had been ordered to release the American editor or that the town would be bombarded, spread rapidly through the city and soon became the talk of the people. All the native hatred of the Mexicans is aroused and the veterans who fought against Santa Anna under Houston and those younger ones who went to Monterey, Buena Vista and the City of Mexico with Scott and Taylor, find interested audiences when telling of these campaigns and the treachery of the "Greasers."

The press of this city and surrounding country is lamenting the inactivity of the members of the Wesleyan conference who have been in session here for the past several days, are in favor of holding the next ecumenical conference in America in 1891, and a motion was made to adjourn.

James G. Miller, attorney, knows Fielden. Saw him on the lake front last fall and heard him say he had a crew of men and equipment, his passage was what was wanted, and that to obtain this the laborers were justified in using force. There were 200 or 300 persons in the crowd.

William M. Knox, the Daily News reporter, was present. He says Spies, Schwab and Fielden, the night of May 5, and interviewed Spies at police headquarters that evening in the presence, part of the time, of Detective Bonfield. Spies, after recounting his plan to blow up the bridge, said he was not the coroner's jury had done. He was told they held him without bail on the charge of murder. Spies expressed surprise at this, saying he did not know how they could do that. He said he did not want to go to the playhouse. He said he had to leave it that night when he got there he made a quieting speech. He said he did not know where the "Revenge" circular was printed. As soon as the explosion took place he went to Zep's bar and saw Mr. and Mrs. Parker who was waiting for his husband. Spies said he was standing on the wagon a moment or two before the bomb went off. Some one, he thought it was William Lichner, told him to get off the wagon. Spies also said that he had some bonds and a quantity of fuse in his office, but left them there solely to show them to reporters.

DEATH OF FATHER BLACK.

A Good and Widely Known Pastor Passes

AWAY.

DETROIT, O., July 26.—Rev. Thomas Blake, ex-pastor of the Gothic church here, died at 4 o'clock, after an illness of one week. He was aged sixty-two years. He was born in Cork, Ireland, 1824, and ordained at St. Mary's, Cork, in 1851. He resided in Xanthippe, Mich., for many years.

His pastorate in early days extended over several counties, and during his career he built ten churches, and has often experienced the hardships of pioneer life. He was a personal friend of Gen. Charles C. Custer, Justice

Wade and Senator Beld, of the New York Senate. He visited Europe several times and was a man of extensive learning, and a great historian.

The Pretzel Curve Ball Pitcher Fine.

DETROIT, July 26.—The fact has just leaked out that Charles Getzen, pitcher of the Detroit ball club, was heavily fined for his improbable pitch of the "pretzel curve." At one time he was considered the best pitcher in the league.

He was a tall, thin, and raw-boned boy, with dark hair, and he ran naked and bleeding through the streets of the town and into the country, where he disappeared in the woods.

Nothing has since been heard of him. The condition of the little girls at last reports was critical.

CRUSHING COLORED LABOR.

Misissippi Outrages That Governor Promises to Have Stopped.

JACKSON, Miss., July 26.—Intelligence has just reached this city to the effect that the Negro capital of the state is to be crushed as far as possible. The colored population are persecuted upon colored citizens of Natchez county, this state. From all the information that can be gleaned it appears that fifteen or twenty white men have banded themselves together for the purpose of oppressing negroes from the country and the state.

They have committed three murders outright, and have horribly beaten others.
They have maltreated a number, and have said that the colored laborers must move. They have been unable to stop the colored men from working, and the colored men have been compelled to leave the country.

At present they are persecuting negroes in that way with some of the most prominent people of this community.

An preliminary examination was had over the body of one of the negroes who had been killed, and he was found to be dead.

They are now endeavoring to prevent the freedom of colored men, joining lumber yards, One or two workers were severely burned by the reduction and the stroke to their

REVENGE IN MEXICO.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—Trouble on an extreme scale is again brewing between the miners and a mine owner likely to last at an early date. The miners along the mines of the Black Diamond coal company are about to leave the agency and go out on a rampage, having caused some excitement in the town recently. The cause of the trouble is that the Indians are demanding and their rations reduced. Up to the present time they have been receiving rations for 7,000 Indians, but the recent census discloses the fact that there are only 4,900 at the front of the country.

Hearing that their rations were to be reduced, and their arms taken from them, the Indians prepared to leave the agency and "run for the hills." The miners who were employed at the mine, however, are determined not to let the Indians go. They have been aroused and incited to resist the action of the mine owner.

The miners are to be paid $1.00 per day and receive $1.00 per month.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The curious question of whether or not an insane woman, under restraint, can sue for a divorce, was raised in a court of law in the summer of 1885. Mrs. Emily Harrington, a woman now confined in a Bloomington asylum, who sued by her father, against her husband, Moses A. Weinberg, a wholesale tobacconist of this city. She says she was married to Weinberg in "conviction," July 1, 1872, and that he had been incapable of marriage ever since. She had been confined in the asylum for nearly two years, but had been released by her husband, and had been living with David Wendham, appointed conservator.

The latter then filed a bill for divorce for her behalf, charging his husband with desertion and adultery, and by carefully concealing in the transcript trial facts which were fully disclosed in the original trial, he had easily defended himself in the face of Mrs. Harrington's accusations.

Mr. Weinberg was allowed $1,000 which was paid to the conservator of the asylum, and he was awarded $1,000 in costs.

Now, however, the court has ruled that the woman can sue for a divorce.

At a hearing on the 25th, the court ruled that she could sue for a divorce.

It is the first by-election since the Riel's execution, and the result is that the Conservative party has won a majority of the seats.

Montreal, July 26.—Hon. J. A. Chaplin, secretary of state, addressing the electors of Champlain, denounced Riel as a rebel, a miscreant and a renegade. The people were furious, and for ten minutes they shouted to him to retract, and when he did not do so, they threw stones at him in his face. Mr.
Chaplin remained with his hands folded, calmly facing the mob. He had hardly spoken another sentence when two large pictures of Riel, pasted upon a board, were thrown at him. The pictures were torn to pieces, and the mob then began to shout.
The people were then told to disperse, and when they did not do so, the mob followed them through the streets of the town and into the country, where they disappeared in the woods.

Nothing has since been heard of him. The condition of the little girls at last reports was critical.

BLUE RIBBON MOVEMENT.

FRANCIS MURPHY TEMPERANCE MEETINGS AT SPRINGFIELD.

A Non-Partisan Gospel Temperance Movement Marks an Important Epoch in the History of Ohio Temperance—General Hunt's Speech—The Telling Effect.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 36.—The wonderful series of non-partisan gospel temperance meetings, under the leadership of Francis Murphy, which have just drawn to a close, mark an important epoch in the history of temperance in Springfield, and, in deed, in Ohio. More men have been reformed, more drinking men induced to sign the pledge, more men taken from the gutter during ten days of Francis Murphy's work in this city than in the years of activity of the Prohibitionists, who have been so busy in their efforts to get the public to turn themselves to office, that they have been blind to the poor wrecks staggering on every street corner; that they have been deaf to the horrid cries of the victim of the alcoholic poison, and the wailing of his unhappy wife and children, and dumb as a wall to the evil influence and love are concerned with the unhappy victims of drink to temperance.

The formation of a non-partisan gospel temperance union in this city was a significant event. The officers of the union are chosen without regard to party. Judge John C. Miller is a statesman whom the residents of Springfield have the profoundest respect. He is a stanch Republican and has for many years been active in temperance work when it was of a non-partisan character.

Under the auspices of the union regular meetings will be held, in which political discussions will be strictly prohibited, and all efforts made to reclaim drunkards and rescue the perishing. Springfield will now enjoy what it has lacked for so long a time—a series of regular national temperance meetings.

Gen. S. H. Hurst, of Chillicothe, was present at the meeting and spoke so feelingly, so hopefully of the result of this non-partisan union, that he said: "I am sorry that the whole audience was thrilled and carried away by it. Gen. Hurst was one of the signers of the appeal to the people of Ohio in favor of non-partisan temperance, and is profoundly interested in the success of the movement. He has done a great deal for us, giving almost like that of Salvini in its perfect sweetness, and with a full gamut of all the tones of human emotion. He said:

"I am a grower of fruit; for years I have won my fruit and sold it blossoms, and the fall comes, but O God [meaning Murphy] would that my fruit were such as yours; would that my work brought forth such results as yours! All over northern Ohio you have been sowing the seed of this blessed movement, and the harvest will come. You must wait, but it will come."

"I am a teacher of the School Ship, New York, July 25.—Dr. J. C. Lowell, Prof. of the board of education, received a letter from Captain Shepard, of schoolship St. Mary's, dated Funchal, Madeira, July 2, saying that all were well and in good spirits. They expected to leave Madeira on July 6 and to arrive at New London about August 10.
